OUR DIFFERENCES WITH ENGLAND.

A diplomatic correspondence between the British Minister at Washington and Secretary FISH has just been published. It develops the fact that both this Government and England are ready and willing to submit the differences which have so long threatened serious complications between the two countries to a joint Commission for abitrament and settlement. This has resulted in both Governments appointing distinguished gentlemen to form that commission. The United States have appointed Mr. Fish, Secretary of State; Judge Nelson, of Supreme Court; R. C. Schenck, Minister to England; Hon. E. R. Hoar, G. H. Williams, of Oregon, as commissioners to meet a similar commission from England to settle the Alabama claims, consisting on the part of England of Earl De Gray, Prof. Montague Bernard, Sir Edward Thornton, Sir John A. McDonald; on the part of Canada, Sir John Ross and Lord Tenterden, who is to be secretary of the commission. The commissioners will not adjudicate claims, but decide upon the manner of settlement.

It is fortunate for both countries that there is now a possibility of a peaceful solution of these difficulties. How much better to thus adjust misunderstandings than resorting to the old method of 'fighting it out."

The Census shows that North Carolina is the fourteenth State in the Union in population. She is one of the sixteen that have over one million inhabitants.

THE FUTURE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

North Carolina embraces a territory of 54,000 square miles. Her climate is unrivalled, her resources diversified and abundant, and her soil equaling any in the United States. She has possibilities for future prosperity and advancement beyond any of her sisters. All that is needed is the proper direction of the energies of her people.

The census of 1870 shows that the increase in the aggregate of our population has been unexpectedly large. The class of people coming among us are of the most desirable sort—possessing capital, enterprise and experience in the industrial avocations of life. Because of this—and it is continuing—North Carolina has recuperated more rapidly from the wide-spread desolation of the war than many other of the Southern States. The desolated homesteads are being rebuilt, the fields that were fallow are beginning to bear remunerating crops, and our late languishing industries are reviving.

In other countries it has usually taken from one to two centuries for a people to fully recover from the ravages of a great war. It is estimated that it will take the French at least three generations to regain the prosperity they had before their late contest with Prussia. But we now feel confident that the Old North State, in less than half a century, will not only have recovered, but will stand equal with any of her sisters in the family of States.

Unquestionably North Carolina, especially the eastern portion of it, is the most desirable section of the United States for Northerners to settle in. Now is the time to do so. The land is cheap, but will soon advance. Our advice to all who wish to emigrate, is to pay this place a visit. Do so by all means before locating elsewhere.

THINGS TO BE CONSIDERED.

There are several things Northern men, desiring to move where land is cheap, should take into consideration. Land is a very attractive thing and the farmer's life is, on the whole, the happiest and most contented. But the value of land is largely dependent on its situation. Most men are only willing to purchase farms when they are sure of being near churches and schools and market and neighbors. They are not anxious to locate in lonely and remote regions. This they must do in settling in the far West. They must give up society and easy communication with the world without.

Herein consists the advantage of Eastern North Carolina over those sections of the West where land is equally cheap. Here the country is settled, the land much of it cleared, markets near, and neighbors all around. There the land, though good and cheap, is all a wilderness. Most of it is remote from civilization and much of it exposed to the ravages of Indians. Those who settle there must live a frontier life. They will find communication difficult; roads few and bad; population sparse; capital scarce; civilization low; and life generally bad. Who that regards the comforts of civilization and has any regard for his family can think of going to the far West, when here he can enjoy all these advantages and buy land nearly as cheap.

THE AMERICAN ARTISAN.—This excellent paper is devoted to Mechanics, Manufactures, Engineering, Chemistry, Inventions and Patents. The sixteen pages are clearly printed, and the pictorial representations of the most important inventions are finely drawn. The establishment has connected with it also a Patent Agency; and persons who have contrived any useful novelty sufficiently valuable for a patent, would do well to address this firm on the subject. Among the new and attractive features for the coming year will be articles entitled "Our Works and Shops," with portraits under the heading of "Sketches of Distinguished Inventors, Mechanics, and Manufacturers." Yearly subscription to the American Artisan, $2; or for six months $1. Address Brown, Coombs & Co., 189 Broadway, New York.

THE MANUFACTURES OF THE UNITED STATES.

We see that foreign capitalists and manufacturers are becoming alarmed at the marvelous rapidity with which American manufactures are superseding the the foreign, and promising not only to oust them from American markets, but to compete with them abroad. In England the government and leading men are devising emigration schemes to avoid the expense of feeding their unemployed pauper workmen, whom we, under the rapid extension of our industries, are taking off their hands at the rate of four hundred thousand a year, and converting from paupers into self-supporting competent men and capitalists. Pertinently asks a cotemporary, "How could it be otherwise when within ten years the product of iron and iron wares has doubled?" And this is true. And further, it is known that the general industries of our whole country are flourishing while the manufacturing pre-eminence of England is waning.

We are opposed to the present Convention movement because it has not been legally called. If held it will have been in vain because the higher Courts will certainly decide the whole action revolutionary and void. In that event —and it will certainly happen—will not all the expense, all the money expended on the Convention be wasted? Aye, worse than wasted, because with the loss, and the contention, and the strife, we will have accomplished no reform, will have made no advancement.

A cotemporary, in a neighboring State, advertises that he will take fifteen cabbage heads for his paper one year. Judging from his editorials, he has a very large one on his shoulders now.

No doubt of it. The whisky power has about ruined you. Water is excellent for dilution and ablution as well as for other purposes.

The Democrats made a great hue and cry against the partisan legislation of the last Legislature. Now, that they are in power, we would like to know where in they are improving in this respect? Instead of consulting the prosperity of the State and the good of the citizens thereof, they are far out Heroding their predecessors in partisanship by legislation of a retaliatory character, regardless of the public interest. Demagogueism rules the hour, and the people will be called on to pay the expense.

In our notice of the Daily Telegram, published at Raleigh, we said it was "neutral." We should have said independent. It is an interesting little paper.

Correspondence.

From a Traveling Correspondent. No 1.

ELIZABETH CITY Feb. 1st, 1871.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

In the prosecution of my business, I have traveled through a good portion of the counties of Pasquotank, Perquimans, Gates, Chowan, Washington and Martin, and have met and conversed with many of their best and most intelligent farmers. I have examined the quality of the soil, have learned something of the system of farming, and the results, in each county, and I have been driven to the conclusion, that the farmers of Pasquotank, are behind their more energetic neighbors of the other counties. If I tell them the truth in rather strong language, it is with the hope that it may lead to improvement, which will increase the value and productivoness of their farms, and enrich themselves.

I find the lands of Pasquotank very far superior to those in the other counties named, though Perquimans county contain some lands of the best quality. These lands are naturally rich, and very productive, they posess the quality of bearing persecution remarkably, and are easily recuperated. I find no lands, that, a little manure, or a year's rest, produces more marked effects; and yet with all these advantages, these lands are manifestly deterioating. Under a constant pressure of corn crops, but poorly cultivated and drained, these naturally fertile lands are producing less and less every year. Corn is the staple crop, and the same fields, on which you now see stalks, have borne a succession of corn crops for many years, and seem destined to bear many more successive crops. The lands are generally cultivated by Tenants, who pay a part of the crop, who feel no interest in the improvement of the soil, and who do nothing to improve it. Under this system, without rest, without manure, or change of crops, the lands must fail in productiveness, and if persisted in must, ultimately, lose its value These remarks may not be true of every farm, but if not, they constitute the exception, not the rule.

All through these other counties named, the eye is met with piles of compost, and at every stable is seen large piles of manure, ready for the field. In my recent travels through Pasquotank, I have seen but one compost heap, and not one made from the stables. I talk with the farmers on this subject, all seem to feel its importance, but very few practice it. I have come to the conclusion that Pasquotank farmers, have a settled predjudice against manure. From the 1st of March to the 15th of June, they labor industriously in cultivating the corn, but when that is laid by the work ceases; there seems to be no work done to improve the lands or to increase the next crop. I find the farmers, on the poorer lands of Gates, Washington and Martin, are becoming very independent, making money, buying property, and enriching their naturally poor lands, while in Pasquotank they rely on their rich land, and are perfectly indifferent to its yearly decline or to the means of its improvement I say to the Pasquotank farmers, that unless you alter your system, you will find, not only your lands, but yourselves growing poorer every year. You have the material for composting all around you, an abundant supply of muck or swamp mud, you have large ditches with heavy banks, containing an immense quantity of the very best material for composting, now, worse than useless.

Your lands will produce clover and the grasses finely. Your recent efforts prove that you can grow cotton profitably. You must turn from the beaten track; manure your lands, rest them, change your crops, sow clover and timothy, and you will soon find, that you can increase your crops, while you decrease the labor and area of land cultivated.

When I have time, I design to continue this subject, and therefore head this No 1.

DRUMMER.

Wake Forrest College.

FORESTVILLE, N. C. Feb. 8th 1871.

To the Editor of the North-Carolinian:

In compliance with your request, I will endeavor to give you a brief account of this Institution of learning, and people connected therewith.

The Institution is very pleasantly located—located on a hill several feet above the general level; and in point of health in my estimation, the place is unsurpassed in the State. The College has been in successful operation for a number of years, under the supervision of gentlemen well qualified to fill the offices they occupy: "to fit and prepare young men for the duties of life." There are quite a number of Students connected with the Institution, from several states—some from Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, one from the West Indies—most all of whom are very religious. Great many are preparing for the ministry.

And the citizens of the place are particularly distinguished for their sociability and hospitality. At few places do people meet with a more cordial reception than they do here. I rejoice to say that my acquaintance with the people and connection with the Institution has been of a pleasant character

Divine Services are held in the College Chapel twice every Sunday; Prayers every morning Student's Prayer Meeting every Monday night, and public Prayer Meeting every Wednesday night.

The Institution has sent out many men in the field of action who have been an honor to her, an honor to the state, an honor to the country; and is likely to send out as many more.

Mr. Editor, why cannot such institutions of learning be established in the Eastern part of the state? What is the great impediment to the advancement of such a good cause—the causes of education? The people are as well prepared for establishing an institution of learning as they are here I venture to say that they are even better prepared to establish and maintain an institution of learning, and still they neglect it—give it no thought of consideration.

It would be the means of making many noted men. Hundreds that are not now known out of the county and hardly out of the township in which they live, might be known all over the country; might exert a beneficial influence in society; and do much for the benefit, and welfare of their country.

Very Respectfully

STUDENT.

The Legislature.

On the 4th in the Senate the bill repealing the militia bill striking out the authority under which it was claimed the late Kirk-Bergen movement were inaugurated passed it several readings; also a bill offering $2,000 for H. B. Lowry, and $1,000 for each of his associates, taken dead or alive. These are desperados and outlaws in Robeson county. The court of Impeachment again convened. Several witnesses were called to establish the charge that Kirk was a desperado brought by Gov. Holden from Tennessee to intimidate our people. The day occupied trying to prove Kirks' bad character.——In the House the bill reported by the special Committee, which provides that witnesses shall receive $1.50 per day and 10 cents mileage, and that the respondent shall not be allowed pay for more than two witnesses to prove the same fact unless permitted by the Court were passed.

On the 6th the morning hour of the Senate was taken up with the bill, allowing Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad to withdraw certain bonds from State Treasury. In the Court of Impeachment the time was occupied in trying to prove by witness that legal processes of all kinds were served, arrests made without resistance, courts in operation, and that the law was obeyed and executed throughout the country when declared in insurrection by Gov. Holden ——In the House Mr Chamberlain of Camden offered a bill authorizing the Dismal Swamp Canal to issue eight per cent bonds; referred. The day occupied discussing private bills.

On the 7th in the Senate a bill was introduced for the removal of the county seat of Halifax to Enfied, to be submitted to a vote of the people: Several bills relating to rail roads were discussed. In the Court of Impeachment the time was occepied in debating what comprises insurrections and the competent evidence to wrove its existence. Messrs. Coningland and Smith speaking for respondent, and Gov. Bragg on the part of managers. The defuse proposing to prove that in Alamance and Caswell Counties there were three organizations under the general name of the Ku-Klux Klan, all of which were for the purpose of subverting the laws, &c., upsetting the reconstruction acts, depriving negroes of their rights, etc.——In the House various bills were introduced and referred.

On the 8th in the Senate the morning hours occupied with local bills. In the court of Impeachment the debate of yesterday extended through the entire session to-day, Governor Graham for the managers, and Boyden for the respondent——In the House the resolution declaring that the people of the State are opposed to any amendment to the Constitution whereby the above mentioned laws will be interfered with was adopted. The balance of the day occupied with the bill relating the salaries and fees of State Officers

On the 9th in the Senate nothing of public interest during the morning hour. In the Court of Impeachment the Chief Justice gave it as his opinion that it was patent for the respondent to introduce evidence showing the existence of secret political oganizations in the counties declared in insurrection, for the purpose of overturning the government. There was no appeal from the decision A number of witnesses were then examined——In the House a new article of impeachment, to be known as article nine, was presented by Mr. Johnson, of Buncombe. The article grew out of the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the issue of bonds to the Western North Carolina railroad. The bill giving the Superintendent of Public Instruction a salary of $1,500 and allowing for travelling expenses and also allowing him an assistant at a salary of $1,000 with travelling expenses was passed.

On the 10th in the Senate various bills were presented and referred. In the Court of Impeachment the day was occupied in examining witnesses.——In the House the time occupied with private bills.

On the 11th nothing of public interest in either House. The Court of Impeachment still examining witnesses.

Congress.

On the 7th in the Senate the bill for the relief of certain citizens of Virginia, for cattle taken by order of Gen. Sheridan, in 1864, was passed after some discussion on the expediency of paying Southern war claims. Three messages were received from the President, one vetoing a bill for the relief of certain contractors for building iron vessels, one recommending that the Berlin Mission be made first classs, and one communicating correspondence with naval officers in Dominican waters.——In the House a large number of petitions were presented some of which protested against land grants to railroads, and then the bill for the repeal of the income tax was reported.

On the 8th in the Senate the House amendment increasing the appropriation for the Investigating Committeee on on Southern affairs to $20,000 was concurred in. A memorial from citizens of North Carolina was presented, asking that Senator-elect Vance and Representative elect Waddell, of that State, be not admitted to their seats. The resolution of the Oregon Legislature rejecting the Fifteenth Amendment were presented and laid on the table. Two additional members were placed on the Southern Investigating Committee, and it was authorized to sit during the sessions of Congress. Mr. Pomeroy introduced a bill to punish bribery at elections for President, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The bill to provide for a common school system in the District of Columbia was taken up, and a debate, which will be read with interest, ensued upon a motion to strike out the clause forbidding that any distinction of race or color be made in the schools. Mr. Revels made an earnest and dignified speech in behalf of the colored people, intimating, however, that many of the most intelligent colored men of the Dirrict would have preferred separate schools if they had believed they could have obtain them.——In the House the bill for the protection of the Texas frontier was laid on the table, and Mr. Hoar's National Education bill was discussed until the House adjourned,

On the 9th in the Senate several new bills were introduced, among them one for the better security of life on steam vessels, and one regulating the carrying of passengers in steam-ships and other vessels. A few unimportant measures were reported from committees, and a call was made on the President for the report of carrying into effect the Treaty of 1846 with Great Britain.——In the House more petitions for a homeopathi university were presented and Mr. Whiteley, member from Georgia, took the oath of office. Mr. Hooper then moved to go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of reaching the bill for the repeal of the income tax. The vote, which is regarded as a test on the general question for repeal, was taken amid considerable excitement and resulted in the rejection of the motion, 103 to to 107.

On the 10th but little of public interest in the Senate. The same in the House.

On the 11th neither House in sesio

On the 13th in the Senate Mr. Sherman presented memorials asking authority for the Cincinnati and Southern railroad to pass through Kentucky. Mr. Sherman said he heartily concurred in the prayer of these petitioners, and thought, if there was any occasion when the legislation and authority of the Federal governmenment might be properly exercised in the matter of railroads, it was when one State obstinately placed itself in the way, and refused permission to the Northern and Southern people to place themselves in connection by a railroad across its territory.——In the House but little of general interest.

France and Germany.

From the papers of the 7th we learn that nominations have been made in France for Constitutional Assembly. Nothing else of special interest.

From the papers of the 8th we see the dispatches from France show that all the members of the Provisional Government have gone to Bordeaux. The London Telegraph's correspondent, writing from Paris Feb. 3, represents all in confusion there, with a prevailing tendency to oppose the Government of National Defeose. Some have gone so far as to suggest the arraignment of the Goverament of the 4th of Septembe: by the National Assembly. The London Morning Post publishes a telegram which represents the Prussians as determined to retard the revictualing of Paris. Loaded cars on a road that has no obstrustions have been detained at Amiens. The British authorities are actively aiding in supplying food to the inhabitants, and several transports are to sail in a few days with provisions. The National and Mobile Guards of Paris have disbanded.

Nothing of importance in the papers of the 9th.

From the papers of the 10th we learn that the election in various paris of France were held on the 9th M. Thiers was elected in Paris by an overwhelming majority. The military chest of the French Army of the East, containing $1,500,000 francs, has been surrendered to the Swiss Government.

From the Papers of the 11th we learn that Gens. Le Flo and Trochu are among the candidates for the National Assembly. A Versailles telegram says returns from eleven Departments indicate the election of Bonapartist, Orleanist and Clerical candidates, but of very few Republicans. The same dispatch says the armistice will be extended to permit the Assembly. The war contribution demanded from Paris is to be divided between North and South Germany, 150,000,000 francs to the former and 50,000,000 to the former.

From the papers of the 13th we see a proclamation addressed by Napoleon from Wilhelmshoche to the French electors on the eve of the elections He says since he was made prisoner he avoided any word or act that might cause party dissensions. He did not treat for peace because it might be ascribed to personal considerations. He left the Regent to decide whether the struggle should be continued. France was unsubdued, notwithstanding her reverses, but the insurrection in Paris overthrew the thrice-sanctioned Empire. Instead of protesting, he hoped for the success of the defense. Now that the struggle is suspended and all reasonable chances of victory gone, the time is come to call the usurpers to account for bloodshed, ruin and squandered resources. France could not be abandoned to a Government having no authority from the people. For himself he did not know or claim his repeatedly confirmed nights, but till the people assembled it was his duty to declare all acts illegitimate. There was but one Government in which the national sovereignty resided, and which was able to restore industry, concord, and peace.

As for the elections a Bordeaux telegram says the result in the majority of cases is in favor of the Conservatives.

A Great Railroad Horror.

At about 10:20 on Monday night Feb. 6th as an extra freight train of 24 cars loaded with petroleum, was approaching New Hamburg Station, which is eight miles being Poughkeepsie, and was clearing the bridge over Wappinger's Creek, coming down the road, an axle of the tenth car from the engine broke, and that car and the 14th following it were thrown from the track, one car bearing two tanks of oil resting partly upon the other, or "up track." Just at the same moment the Pacific or Chicago express train, which had left New York at 8 o'clock, was approaching at the rate of 30 miles an hour. The engineer heard shouts from the men on the freight train, discovered a danger signal suddenly displayed, and attempted to stop his train. But it was too late; in the next instant the locomotive had struck the oil car, an explosion ensued, the bridge gave way under the combined weight of locomotive, oil-car, and other cars that were suddenly tumbled upon it, and there was a terrible plunge into the water. The ice was thick, but the locomotive broke through it instantly, sinking into water 15 feet deep, and dragging with it the tender, the baggage and express-cars, and one sleeping-car. The remaining seven cars of the express train were not precipitated through the bridge, but two of them, with several cars of the oil-train, were destroyed by fire. The bridge took fire, and in a few minutes the whole structure fell upon the cars which were half immersed, being partly supported by the ice, and burried them out of sight.

Jacob Joyner, Esq., of Greenville, N. C., under date of October 25th, 1870, says: "The Poudrette I purchased of you last spring, I used on Corn, and from results, I am satisfied it is the cheapest and best fertilizer we can use in this section."

David W. Gaskill, of Washington, N. C., under date of Nov. 4th, 1870, says: "I used your Double Refined Poudrette on Cotton in the same way (in the drill, side by side with Peruvian Guano, the Poudrette in one row and the Guano in the next, and I pronounce it superior to the Guano. In the spring the rows where I used the Guane looked the best, but in June and July the Poudrette showed itself, and my neighbors who have seen it pronounce it equal to Guano, and I think, they will unite with me in using it another year."

James R. Wilder, of Franklinton, N. C., says in letter dated Sept. 23d, 1870: "I used the Double Refined Poudrette on Cotton, and it will, without a doubt, make more than a 56 Guano, which has a great reputation as a Cotton Manure. The Nitro-Phosphate I used on Cotton Sweet Potatoes and garden truck. all of which did exceedingly well.

J. J. Rollins, of Pactalus, N. C., under date of October 20th, 1870, says: "I believe the Double Refined Poudrette and Bone Dust are all they are recommended to be. I used the Poudrette on Corn, and although the season has been very unfavorable for all kinds of fertilizers on my sandy soil. I was perfectly satisfied, and believe it the cheapest fertilizer we can use."

J. A. J. Askew, of Colerain, N. C., in a letter dated September 16th, 1870, says: "I let several planters have some of the "Double Refined Poudrette." One says he wants 5 tons next season to put under Corn. I used 4 tons on Corn, and although the season was unfavorable it astonished every one who saw it. I think it the best fertilizer for Corn I ever saw."

H., on the line of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, forty miles from Norfolk, Va., and twenty from Elizabeth City, and containing three hundred acres, one hundred of which are cleared and under fence. This place having been a Doctor's Stand for twenty years, physicians would do well to make inquiries respecting it. The building is a large residence and all necessary out-houses are in good condition—indeed, similar ones could not be put upon the premises for the money asked for the farm. Being immediately on Currituck Sound and in close proximity to the best fowling and fishing grounds in North Carolina, it commands a beautiful water view, is healthy the year round, and suitable for the home of the sportsman, as well as of the farmer or physician.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

New York Advertisements.
Assignee's Notice.
See Dr. J. N. Butt's advertisement.

Local and Personal.

☞ Dr. ANDREWS has gone North, to be absent several weeks.

☞ We understand that the latest toast of our married lady friends is "The right man in the right place—a husband at home in the evening."

☞ Those in want of a neat job are invited into the office of the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Printing in all styles and colors.

☞ "F. A. S." is informed that the best way to get information on the subjects queried after is to subscribe and pay for the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

☞ "Pay as you go" is an excellent maxim. Old JOHN RANDOLPH declared it to be the philosophers stone. Subscribers to the NORTH CAROLINIAN please take notice.

☞ The old Spiritualistic Partriarch Dr. THOMAS WHITE, was in town once more this week. We believe he is off again, on a missionary tour, to some point in Virginia.

☞ A correspondent wants to know "Who are DAUCHEY and ROWELL?" They are New York Advertising Agents, and are responsible and pay for the advertisements appearing in the columns under their names.

☞ A young lady tired of single life wishes a husband. She is about twenty-one years of age; weighs one hundred and forty pounds; has golden hair and blue eyes and is noted for her good looks and Domestic talents. For information address "HALLIE," P. O. Elizabeth City, N. C.

☞ A few days ago Hon. C. L COBB introduced a bill in the House, making an appropriation for the erection of a first-class light-house at a central point between Cape Henry, Virginia, and Bodie's Island, North Carolina; which was read a first and second time, and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

☞ The communication of our traveling correspondent is timely. His points are well taken. He has been about

" ——— taking notes
And, faith, does prent "em"

We are glad to learn that we may expect further contributions from his pen. Such practical hints are just what our farmers need.

☞ Rev. Mr. BLACKWELL Presiding Elder of this District paid his first official visit to this place, reaching here on the Saturday's Boat and preaching in the Methodist Church on Sabbath last. He made a very good impression. In the evening Rev. Mr. ROUSEY, of the Virginia Conference preached a very sensible and practical sermon from the text "Let your light so shine," &c.

☞ "K" inquires: "To what nation did Euclid belong? and in what age of the world did he live?" We answer: He was the most celebrated of ancient Geometers and flourished at Alexandria in the reign of the first Ptolomy, in the 3rd century before Christ. The Arabic historians give many unauthenticated particulars of his life; but it is only certain that he dwelt first in Greece and then in Egypt, and probably that he studied at Athens under the successors of Plato, and then passed over to Alexandria.

☞ While we know that man makes the City we feel and recognize, as we visit them, that direct from the hand of the Great Architect is the country and the deep woods around and within reach of our town. As we pass through the latter we are struck with the trees—such large pines, and so tall. One can fancy "their slender spires are close against the sky." And then the variety. What an opening for manufacturing; what an opportunity for capital; what a chance for enterprize.

☞ The editor of the Weldon News says he is permitted to copy the following extract of a letter from Hon. C. L. COBB to a gentleman of that vicinity relative to the proposed appropriation to the Roanoke river:

"I have my Roanoke river matter in some shape. I have visited Gen. Humphries, and have now a favorable report from Col. Craighill and also from Gen'l H. The report recommends an immediate appropriation of $40,000 as a beginning, saying that that amount could be used in an advantageous manner in the next twelve months. I shall on Monday next argue the case before the Committee, and hope that I may succeed in getting the $40,000 for present purposes."

☞ In reply to the questions of "A Sewing Girl" we would say that the steel needle now in use was introduced in the time of Queen Elizabeth; but the process by which it was made was kept secret, and the art was unknown until the year 1650, when it was again revived by Christopher Greening at Long Crenden, Buckinghamshire. Among uncivilized people, at a very early period, rude attempts were made to form needles or bodkins of bone and ivory, by means of which their garments might be stitched together. The use of needles was known to the ancient Egyptians, a few having been found in their tombs. Pliny mentions needles of bronze for sewing and knitting as being in use at his day. As to the kind of needle used in the days of Adam and Eve we know nothing. They evidently had a needle of some sort, for we are informed in the Bible, "They sewed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons."

☞ "A Rejoinder to 'J. B.'" will appear in our next issue.

☞ The days are growing gradually longer. A little over ten hours now between sunrise and sunset.

The Impeachment trial drags its slow length along. We give a brief synopsis of each days proceedings.

☞ The letter from our Raleigh correspondent reached us too late. He informs us that the Republicans speak of establishing a journal at the capitol.

☞ The Wilmington Star says the man who didn't believe in advertising has gone into partnership with the Sheriff, and they are going to have an auction. Let this be a warning!

☞ We have had an unprecedented season of rain. At last it has cleared up and the weather is pleasant. Our exchanges report it disagreeable and cold in the North.

☞ A large meeting in opposition to the Convention was held in Tyrrell county last week. Addresses were made by C. W. GRANDY Esq., of Elizabeth City and Hon. J. J. MARTIN, of Williamston.

☞ We see by the Towanda (Pa.) papers that Dr. E. H. MASON, is dead. Many of our people will remember him as having paid our City two visits within the past year. He died on the 3d inst. Aged about 56 years.

☞ Tuesday was St. Valentine's day. It is so named in honor of St. Valentine, a bishop who was martyred in the year 270 of the Christian era for his religious faith. In our day it is very much observed by sending "love's missives."

☞ Our friend THOS. GASKINS is stopping at his former place of business, at Dr. J. N. BUTT's Drug store where he will be pleased to see his friends and customers of former days. Give him a call and you will find him polite and agreable as of old.

It is announced from Raleigh that Gov. CALDWELL has sent a message to the Legislature refusing to issue a proclamation ordering an election in the Convention matter on the ground of its unconstitutionality. It is also stated that Chief Justice PEARSON has written a letter concurring in the views of the Governor. The House has asked the Attorney General for his opinion. It is said that Gov. VANCE also opposes the Convention movement, pronouncing it "a great humbug."

☞ Among the Northern arrivals we notice HENRY C. HARTMAN and wife, from Bloomsburg, Pa.; CHARLES W. RUNYON and COE KILGORE, from Troy, Pa.; Rev. P. W. MELICK and family and W. BITTENBENDER, from Bloomsburg, Pa; TIM H. RUSSEL and H. F. PALMER, from Taunton, Mass.; LAYTON RUNYON, from Bloomsburg, Pa.; Dr. W. H. FULLER, New York; J. R. GRIFFIN, Indiana, and A. CURTIS, Owego, N. Y.

☞ "Peach Man Number One," who claims to hail from the "Goose water country" in Currituck, sends us the following bit of "fact and fancy." He claims it as original. Perhaps it is, at any rate we infer that it is a short history of his own experience.

Ti's many years since I fell in love,
With Jane Jemima Skeggs.
The handsomest country girl by far,
That ever went on legs.

I roamed all over the neighbors lands,
And robbed the wild wood bowers,
Tore my pants, and scratched my hands,
In search of choicest flowers.

In my joyous love, I brought them all,
To my Jemima Jane.
But I wouldn't be so foolish now,
If I were in love again.

A smart young chap, he came that way,
Dressed up in such fine clothes.
With a shiny hat and a shiny vest,
And a mustache under his nose.

And, oh, my eyes, how he did talk,
My heart was full of pain;
Says he, "my love, will you go for a walk,"?
And walked off with Jemima Jane.

Years have passed since that mishap,
And I feel my loss was gain.
And I am much obliged, to that thar chap,
What married Jemima Jane.

Unanswerable Arguments.

Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health-preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy, is based. When witnesses come forward in crowds, year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelief in its efficacy is literally impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, include individuals of every class, and residents of every clime, and refer to the most prominent of the complaints which afflict and harass the human family. Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, have annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders, as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the reader are upon these lines, tens of thousands of persons of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defence against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local potions which interested declares sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that is due to fraud and imposture, while the demand for the great vegetable specific is constantly increasing.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

The Land and Lumber Co.

Water Street,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In again presenting our list of lands and other property for sale, we repeat that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A large new brick building in the town of Elizabeth City, on Water street, opposite the market house, and one of the most eligible locations in the town for the mercantile business. The building is 70 feet long by 35 feet wide. The lower story is neatly fitted up with shelves, drawers, counters, &c., for a store, and the second story is finely finished with parlor, sitting room, and four good size bed rooms—all in perfect order. There is nearly a half acre of land that goes with it, and in the rear of the store, is a good two story wood building, cook house, pantries, dairy, &c., and such modern fixtures as will render a family able to live in good style. It is one of the best stands in the town for a merchant, wholesale, or retail. The party owning it is largely in debt, and compelled to sell, hence it is offered at the low price of $3.200, one half cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Possession given immediately.

For a merchant who wishes to make money at the mercantile business rapidly, who desires to settle in the most rapidly rising town in North Carolina; who wishes to enjoy good society, live in a strong union community where Northern men and their families are received both in the social and business circles, on equal footing with the most favored of our own people; and where the climate is the most genial and healthful to be found anywhere, this is the place to come and buy. And then too it is at a point suited for all sorts of business, being in direct water communication with twenty of the richest counties in the State, and having a harbor with water 40 feet deep, and in easy and cheap access with all the civilized world. A point possessing all these advantages, and many more, too numerous to mention, and for property so cheap as this, is an inducement offered, unparalleled in any part of the United States.

A large brick building nearly new, and well built, in the town of Elizabeth City, three stories high, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with a wing 40 feet square, situated in the business part of the town, and within forty yards of the wharf where steamers and sailing vessels are arriving and departing nearly every hour in the day. The daily line of steamers from Norfolk to E. City, have their depot and landing at this wharf. There is vacant land enough adjoining for sale at low prices to make over two acres. There is nearly a half acre that will go with this property.

This is the finest building in the town for a large hotel and is the most eligibly located for that purpose. And, since four hotels were burned here during the war, and the business is now imperfectly carried on, this is a splendid opening for a person to make a large amount of money at hotel keeping. This building commands a view of the river for miles, and all the shipping in the port can be seen from it. It is offered at forced sale at $7.500, one half cash, balance in one and two years, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 10 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

One of the most desirable, and at the present, best paying farms in Eastern North Carolina, is offered for sale; situated in Perquimans co., N. C., 12 miles from E. City, and two from Perquimans river, embracing a large portion of the celebrated Turkey Ridge body, and being elegantly adapted to the growth and culture of corn, wheat, oats, peas, cotton and clover, and the various grasses. Nearly the entire farm is under a system of successful culture, with good fences, well drained, having on it a good dwelling with 4 rooms, several good tenant houses and the necessary out-houses, together with a barn, 50 by 70 feet, with machine shelter attached, 30 by 70 feet, stables 28 by 50, and blacksmith shop. 600 acres is under cultivation and 100 acres in grass pasture. To a party seeking a permanent investment, or to those wishing to establish a small colony, this plantation holds out peculiar inducements. If desired, the stock of horses, mules, oxen, hogs, corn and fodder now on the farm, together with all the necessary farming implements will be sold with it at reasonable rates. Cotton Seed and Ashes Compost A Compliment and a Question.

We publish the following letter for two reasons: First, because it embodies a gratifying compliment to the Maryland Farmer, for which the kindly-hearted writer will receive our thanks; and next, because it is our duty, as it is also our pleasure, to respond to any questions on Agriculture which may be put to us by our friends. Here is the letter:

SMITHFIELD, JOHNSTON CO., N. C., December 6, 1870.

To the Editors of the Maryland Farmer:

GENTLEMEN:—The last number of your excellent paper is received for 1870, and, like all the preceding ones, is full of useful matter to the farmer. You may depend on it, I shall try and have my neighbors subscribe for it, for I well know it will amply repay them.

This has been a disastrous year to cotton planters, here, on account of rain and low prices; but we shall never prosper while we have to depend on the North for supplies, and plant only cotton.

I want your advice how to use cotton seed ashes. You all tell us not to mix cotton seed and ashes together. Well I will tell you what I thought of doing—mixing say fifty-bushels of cotton seed and thirty bushels of ashes together, just as you would compost any other manure, viz: a layer of each, and on each layer put a good sprinkling of plaster to retain the ammonia; and in the spring open my drill, sow by hand; throw on one furrow, or else, if it was time, put my ashes, seed, &c., in bottom of drill, and then put my guano on top and bed up on all at same time. The reason why I do not compost the ashes and seed with muck is, it is too far to haul.

When I could not get the ashes to mix with the seed, how would lime answer, and what amount, say on poor sandy land? Yours truly,

J. MCCLAIR.

A compost of wood ashes and cotton seed unleached—the compost to remain in bulk until fermentation sets in—with the addition of plaster, as proposed by our correspondent, would prove an excellent fertilizer for cotton, by reason of the valuable supply of potash furnished by the ashes. Where guano is also used, the compost ought not to be applied until fermentation has entirely ceased. On no account would we compost lime with cotton seed, if guano is also to be applied. But lime composted with cotton seed, and the ammonia retained by the use of plaster, would, in the absence of guano, make a good fertilizer.—Maryland Farmer.

How to make the Boys good Farmers.

Induce them to take an interest in the farm, in the implements, in the stock; tell them all your plans, your successes and failures; give them a history of your own life, and what you did and how you lived when a boy; but do not harp too much on the degenerate character of the young men of the present age; praise them when you can, and encourage them to do still better. Let them dress up for the evening, instead of sitting down in their dirty clothes in a dingy room. Provide plently of light; thanks to kerosene, our country homes can be as brilliantly and as cheaply lighted as the gas-lit houses in the city. Encourage the neighbors to drop in evenings. Talk agriculture rather than politics; speak more of the importance of large crops, of good stock, of liberal feeding, and of the advantages of making animals comfortable rather than of the hard times, low prices and high wages. Above all, encourage the boys to read good, agricultural books. Papers are all well enough, but an intelligent boy wants something more and better. Get him some good agricultural book to study. Read it with him, and give him the benefit of your experience and criticism. When he has mastered this, buy him another. In our own case, we owe our love for farming principally to the fact that our father talked to us of everything that was doing on the farm; answering all our questions and encouraging, rather than refusing, our childlike desire of helping him to plow, to chop, to let off water, and fire the brush heap.

Salt and Lime.

Professor Johnston recommends the following as an excellent combination for fertilizing purposes:

Mix one bushel of salt with two bushels of dry lime, under cover and allow the mixture to decompose gradually, thus forming an intimate chemical union of the two materials. For this purpose the mixture should lie at least six weeks before use, or still better, two or three months, the heap mentioned being turned over occasionally. This salt and lime mixture, when applied at the rate of twenty to thirty bushels per acre, forms an excellent top dressing for many crops. It acts powerfully on the vegetable matter of soils. Fifty bushels applied to a turnip field have produced as large a crop as twenty loads of barn yard manure. It is also very destructive to insects and grubs in the soil. Like salt, it attracts moisture from the air, and has been found useful against drought. Its decomposing power is remarkable; and if three or four bushels of it are mixed with a cord of swamp muck, the latter will soon be reduced to powder. Coarse manure is in a similar manner decomposed and made fine. Sour wet muck, thus treated and composed with barnyard manure, constitutes a fertilizer almost as valuable as the unmixed manure of the barnyard.—Report of Commissioner of Agriculture for 1869.

If quick lime be mixed with moist vegetable substances, it will soon destroy their texture, and will form a mixture, the greater part of which can be dissolved in water, thus rendering it good for plants, showing the utility of applying quick or caustic lime to reclaimed swamps abounding with tussucks, coarse grass, and other vegetable matter, to deaden the useless brush, and subdue the wild nature of the soil by which the ground will become the proper receptacle for the growth of the cultivated grasses or grain.

A man at Cleveland, Ohio, fell asleep in a church a Sunday or two ago, and awoke just as the minister began to read in a loud voice the lesson of Scripture which begins, "Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place of gold where they find it." Jumping to his feet in great excitement, the merchant stretched his arm and shook his book to the astonished minister, exclaiming, "I'll take 500 shares!"

New land is excellent for turnips; so is any light vegetable mould, sod included; and the ashes of sod best of all, says an eminent authority.

Irrigate land one season, and the effect will be seen the next also—this on grass more particularly.

Young ladies should be careful and not get chaps on their lips. They frequently lead to an affection of the heart.

A man of the name of Taylor, of Aversboro,' Harnett county, was drowned at Fayetteville on Friday last.

MEDICAL.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1870

Allow me to call your attention to my

PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.

The component parts are, BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distilation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of the ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist,
of 16 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Manufacturing Chemists,
Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

Is the great specific for Universal Lassitude, Prostration, &c.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superceding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN CORN CULTURE!

THOMA'S PATENT SMOOTHING HARROW AND BROADCAST WEEDER

Will thoroughly clean from weeds 15 TO 20 ACRES OF CORN PER DAY. It has nearly 100 Steel Teeth inclining backwards.

The draft is very light, although the breadth covered at each passage is over nine feet.

Owing to the direction of the teeth it does not injure the more strongly rooted corn when drawn broad-cast over it, while the tender surface weeds are thoroughly destroyed.

It is an addition the best pulverizer of the surface ever used, as the teeth never clog with weeds or adhesive earth.

It has been used with the most gratifying success in nearly every State in the Union.

PRICE.—It will be sent on receipt of order from Geneva, N. Y., or from our depots in Chicago, Champaign, Ill., St. Louis, Cincinnati, Alexandria, Va., Baltimore, or Philadelphia, for $2 additional, and from Leavenworth Kansas, for $3 additional.

For full particulars please send for Illustrated circular to

BONE DUST—

The subscriber has just erected at his Farm near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered as the shortest notice.

The BONE DUST will be finer than any heretofore made by him, (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with a Drill.

Mr. Samuel Sands, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States as the former Editor of the "American Farmer and Rural Register," will have charge of his office, 63 S. GAY STREET, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

Farmers and others are invited to visit our works. I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to point out, therefore I have no "non-admittance" signs on the premises. Persons are free to examine my factory, and the modus operandi of Dust making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent. to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

Bone Dust, as manufactured by me, is simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.
